Named for Richard F. Edlich, M.D., Ph.D., and Christopher J. Henderson, the award recognizes an inventor or team of inventors each year whose technology has proven to be of notable value to society. Award winners receive a $10,000 cash prize and formal recognition at the Patent Foundation's annual awards banquet, to be held April 13, 2009, at the Boar's Head Inn in Charlottesville.

ELIGIBLE NOMINEES:

1. Are current University of Virginia faculty, staff or students;
2. Currently have an issued and non-expired U.S. patent OR copyright on their technology; and
3. Have invented a technology that is, in the opinion of the nominator, of high value to society.

To make a nomination, send an e-mail or letter of support identifying the nominee(s) and addressing the above criteria to the U.Va. Patent Foundation (contact information above) by March 2, 2009.
